Will we make it?

10th of September, freezing cold at -15 degrees Celsius, we made a lunchstop at N 65 degrees 20.30.5 and E 151 degrees 29.44.3 and we still have 60 km:s to go until we reach Zyryanka.

The sides of the river are icy and it was problematic for us even to have this lunchbreak. The worst part of the cold is gone. We want to make it to Zyryanka today. It will be our longest day. We need to make it. Not only to get out of this freezing cold, but we have a deadline to meet.

Johan has problems getting the laptop working to send this programme....he says it is ok now, so we will send this icecold dispatch of right now.

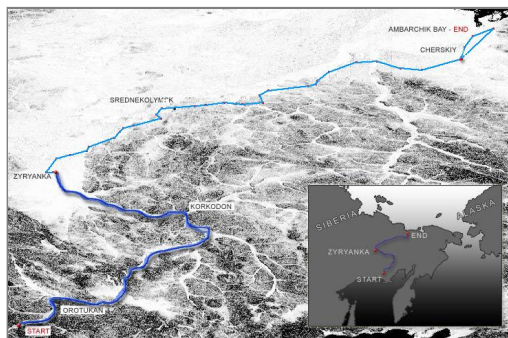

Will we get the film slot away in time?

Det är den 10 september, det är iskallt ute, 15 minusgrader, vi har tagit ett lunchstopp för att dessutom kunna skicka iväg denna rapport direkt från vildmarken. Vi befinner oss vid N 65 degrees 20.30.5 and E 151 degrees 29.44.3 och det är 6 mil kvar till Zyryanka. Vi måste dit idag om vi skall hinna redigera ihop och skicka iväg ett inlägg till tisdagens Gokväll.

Johan säger att han har problem att få datorn att funka i kylan...nu går det ropar han, missa nu inte inlägget på tisdag, klockan 18 någonting, SVT 2, se vet ni om vi hann.
